THOUGHT FOR THE MONTH

The highest education is that which does not merely give us information but makes our life in harmony with all existence.

Rabindranath Tagore

Editorial

Don't give up

One while sitting in his study, drinking coffee and thinking for the day's planning and its execution, not day dreaming, not wasting time and not worrying, but simply thinking. Best habit is to think about the importance of having a sense of mission and then devoting time to it, though it is not so easy.

You will find, the bigger you dream, the more obstacles you face. Your mission should be state forward i.e. you wish to help human beings become extraordinary and organization to become world class. One must have such passion to realize that kind of dream and do one's best part to make this world a better place. This should not be just a business for you; rather it must be calling for you.

Challenges are always good, one grows with them. We are most alive amidst danger. Life is lived out on the wire, the rest is just waiting, the wisest among us - the genuine leaders smile in the face of adversity. They understand that life tests the big dreamers - the passionate revolutionaries. It's almost like a wedding-out process. Only the strong and the best get to live with this heart song.

One must know that if he failed, he would not regret that but know one thing that he might regret in not trying to do that thing. So one shall rise above any resistance one meets, he must keep his eyes on the dream. He shall stay on message and solidly on mission, because this world belongs to the dreamers, you and me. And whether we ultimately win or not we will have made difference and that must be enough.

CT GROUP OF INSTITUTIONS ranked amongst Top 30 Colleges in India by IBM-TGMC-2010: The Great Mind Challenge Contest

Dr. Manoj Kumar, CT Group Director, receiving Certificate of Excellence awarded by IBM

CT Group of institutions coveted the honour of being ranked amongst Top 30 colleges in India by IBM in a felicitation ceremony organised at Hotel Leela Palace, Chanakyapuri, New Delhi on Nov. 15, 2011. Dr Manoj Kumar, Group Director received the award from Mr. Anil Menon, Director, Software Group Marketing, IBM India/South Asia.

TGMC promotes students from engineering colleges from across

India in their endeavor to develop solutions for real-time problems and scenarios using IBM open source software. It is aimed to encourage students who aspire to make key contributions to develop applications on cutting-edge IBM technologies while providing them with an opportunity to improve their software-writing skills.

In all, 1, 50, 000 students from over 3500 colleges all over India participated in the contest. Based on the participation of the students in TGMC and the quality of the SRS and projects submitted by its students, CT Group of Institutions was ranked amongst the Top 30 colleges.

Launched in 2004, TGMC is an innovative program organized every year that addresses the need to better educate millions of students for a more competitive information technology (IT) workforce by partnering with colleges and universities.

Every year, the growth and reach of TGMC has increased, seeing a marked increase in the number of students who are keen to participate in such an endeavor. In fact, TGMC is now listed in the Limca Book of Records as the largest technological contest of its kind – testament to the fact that there is a need in today's competitive world for such an initiative that supports, guides, and challenges students to higher goals.

Universities provide excellent learning environments, but find it difficult to teach students about an IT transformation in progress unless those driving the transformation – IT companies at the helm of transformation – provide real-time input and support. TGMC is an outreach of the IBM Academic Initiative, a global program that facilitates the collaboration between IBM and educators to teach students the IT skills they need to be competitive and keep pace with changes in the workplace. Dr. Manoj Kumar, Group Director informed that IBM has established a Centre of Excellence at CT campus and under Academic Initiative programme, IBM provides access to software, training, and course materials at no charge to our students. Available within the Academic Initiative, IBM offers hundreds of resources for integration into college curricula to help teach students how to master the fast-growing market of open technologies. Through this initiative, IBM is working with students to build technology and science skills.

S. Charanjit Singh Channi, Chairman, CT Group of Institutions said that we are committed to provide excellent infrastructure, research facilities and environment to our faculty and staff.
